@WHRO Public Media

From the Chief Executive Officer

Can you believe 2022 is coming to an end? It's been a year of achievements for your local public media station. This year, WHRO Public Media won 15 Telly Awards, 11 Virginia Association of Broadcasters Awards, five Emmy Awards, two American Advertising Awards, two Public Media Journalist Association Awards, two American Advertising Awards, two Public Media Awards—for educational resources for the community and marketing and communications, The Norfolk Sister City 2022 Global Diplomacy Award, and WHRO was selected as the Director's Community Leadership Award by the Norfolk FBI for our contributions to increase awareness about important programs, such as civil rights and public corruption campaigns. WHRO was also named once again as a Top Workplace in Hampton Roads by Inside Business!

Additionally, WHRO is very proud of two large-scale initiatives that were launched this year: the expansion of the WHRO Newsroom and the acquisition and rebranding of WFOS-Time Machine Radio. We have continued to ramp up local news coverage in the region with the acquisition of the Virginia Center for Investigative Journalism (VCIJ), a nonprofit newsroom focused on enterprise and investigative reporting. This new venture, the Virginia Center for Investigative Journalism at WHRO, marks a further expansion of our broadcaster's initiative to bolster independent journalism. WHRO launched its newsroom in 2020 and now has a staff of eight reporters, with two more onboarding before the new year, and a passionate, innovative news director, Mechelle Hankerson, who is leading the way. We are dedicated to the Hampton Roads community and local news coverage, and we look forward to watching the WHRO newsroom continue to flourish for years to come.

Have you experienced Time Machine Radio yet? For most of us, it only takes a few notes of a certain song to instantly transport us to another time. Jerry Carter and Paul Shugrue, hosts of WFOS-Time Machine Radio, our newest oldies station, said they hope to provide listeners with the same experience each time listeners tune in—a ticket to past events and memories. It is the ultimate station for the '50s, '60s & '70s - Rock, Soul, R&B, broadcasted locally on 88.7 FM Chesapeake, 99.3 FM Virginia Beach, 90.3-2 HD WHRO FM. The station can be streamed online at any time. You'll find a bit of the station's history as well as some fun old photos by visiting timemachineradio.org

As we head into the holidays, we have some seasonal programs lined up for this month. On WHRO TV 15 as well as our radio stations, you can enjoy poignant holiday stories, seasonal music, and uplifting programs like Elle Wishes You a Swingin' Christmas, with Vanessa Williams, O Holy Night: Christmas with The Tabernacle Choir, and The Nutcracker and the Mouse King. You can read about these upcoming shows throughout this guide.

'Tis the season to support what you love! I hope you will join us and consider including WHRO in your holiday gift giving this year. Our holiday television and radio membership drives are also taking place in early December. Your additional contribution will help us continue to produce the engaging and educational programming you enjoy. Thank you in advance for your continued support. And from our family to yours, Happy Holidays!

Holidays With Friends

There isn't a better time to connect with friends than the holidays. And each December, WHRV creates a unique backdrop perfect for seasonal gatherings. This year, WHRV invites you to celebrate "Holidays with Friends" with various programs—a visionary musical palette for everyone to enjoy.

Our Christmas week offerings kick off with our traditional Sunday before Christmas program on December 18, from 6 p.m.-2 a.m., with bluegrass, acoustic and classic country seasonal selections. We'll also feature instrumental holiday favorites anchored by the New England Irish Harp Orchestra's The First Light release.

Paul Shugrue's Out of the Box gets in the spirit with non-stop holiday tunes all Christmas week. And, for Christmas weekend, there's no genre lost in the spirit as The R and B Chronicles, A Shot of the Blues, and Lost in the Shuffle will present shows to count down those final few frantic hours until Christmas Eve.

And fear not parents! We'll offer our all-night holiday music backdrop for those late-night toy assembly projects on Christmas Eve. And Jae Sinnett presents a jazzy Christmas afternoon just perfect as you prep for that holiday dinner.

Also, don't miss your favorite public media staff reciting the classic Clement Clarke Moore 'Twas the Night Before Christmas on Christmas morning.

So, wrap those presents, trim the tree, get the lights up, start cooking, and settle in for our annual musical gift to you.

Happy Holidays from all your friends here at WHRO Public Media!

Holiday Traditions Old and New

This year will be my daughter's first Christmas, which has me thinking about holiday traditions: both the longstanding ones that I want to share with her, and the original ones that we'll create together as a family. I hope your holiday will also include the perfect mix of new and time-honored experiences. As always, you can count on WHRO FM for your December soundtrack, with music for the season comprising both returning favorites and fresh discoveries.

Hanukkah will begin the evening of Sunday, December 18, and we'll have a musical celebration that night. Highlights during the following week will include 2022 editions of Christmas with the Tabernacle Choir at Temple Square, Welcome Christmas!, the St. Olaf Christmas Festival, and Music of the Baroque's Brass and Choral Holiday Concert. Some of our additional offerings this year will be A Mexican Christmas with the Newberry Consort, with 17th-century traditional music for worship and celebration; and The Ballad of the Brown King and Other Music for Christmas by Black Composers, featuring music selected by Dr. Louise Toppin, a noted performer and scholar who specializes in the concert repertoire of African American composers. We'll have a celebration of the winter solstice on Wednesday, December 21, as well as holiday music with a Virginia connection on A Local Touch, and we'll cap off the week with a festive edition of Show Tune Cafe on Friday at noon.

On Christmas Eve we'll once again partake in the beloved annual tradition, A Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols from the Chapel of King's College, Cambridge, England. That will be followed by the Metropolitan Opera's holiday presentation of Mozart's The Magic Flute, and Raymond Jones will keep you company as you wrap those last-minute gifts with an evening full of Christmas classics. For Christmas Day we'll offer joyous and beautiful music throughout the day, including encore presentations of many of the previous week's specials, and Christmas editions of With Heart and Voice and Pipedreams.

We look forward to celebrating with you!

Give the Gift of Reading

Through WHRO Public Media's Literacy Program, tens of thousands of free books are distributed regularly to area children during after-school and community events, as well as parent and professional development trainings. These books were initially collected during a holiday reception first held in 2008. Years later, the annual event continues for members of our Hunter B. Andrews Society, Legacy Society, Board of Directors, Community Advisory Board, Williamsburg Advisory Committee, and Emerging Leaders Board. Reception attendees were asked to bring a children's book to the reception for distribution to children in the community.

It didn't take long before word of the annual book drive spread and members of the community began asking how they could also participate. Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, local residents would drop off books in the lobby for the Holiday Book Drive. The Children's Services department would then sort the books and distribute them to the community through our many outreach programs, including the Raising Readers Van, for grades PreK-5 (or ages 4-10).

This year the tradition continues, but we've made it even easier to support this important initiative - our book drive has gone digital! We have created an Amazon Shopping List that features the preferred titles for students.

If you would like to donate a book, please scan the QR Code with your mobile phone and select your book donation from the list. Your contribution can then be sent directly to the station for distribution to deserving students in our community. Thank you for not only supporting WHRO with your membership, but for supporting literacy in Hampton Roads with the gift of books!

We believe in the power of promise.

For 58 years, Checkered Flag has been a proud member of the Hampton Roads community. And we're equally proud to have supported the UnitedWay's food drives and children's charities that provide everything from academics, housing and even dance lessons. We're proud to partner with organizations like Achievable Dream, the Access College Foundation and For Kids. The way we see it, every road should lead to opportunity for our community.

Together, we're the engine to make that a reality.
